SEC Qualifies Regulation A+ Tier I

Allentown, Pennsylvania. October 26, 2017 – American Energy Partners, Inc. (OTC: AEPT) (the “Company”, “American Energy” or “AEPT”), a diversified energy company, today announces that it has received notification from the Securities & Exchange Commission (“SEC”) that the SEC has qualified AEPT’s Regulation A+.

The acceptance of the Regulation A+ enables American Energy to immediately raise up to $10 million. The capital raise will fund operations and future asset purchases. “These acquisitions are part of our cash positive business loop of AEPT backed services which will be accretive to fourth quarter earnings. We continue to advance American Energy in what we believe to be a meaningful way,” states American Energy’s Chairman and CEO, Brad Domitrovitsch. “We are thrilled to go into the fourth quarter with the ability to attract capital and complete the acquisitions of identified cash flow positive assets.”

Two road shows have been scheduled for the beginning of November in New York City and through the Company’s partnership with Mininvest; the Company is open to crowdfunding on Mininvest’s platform found at www.mininvest.com.

The Company was notified on Wednesday, October 25, 2017 by the SEC that it had qualified its Form 1-A Application allowing the Company to move forward with the Offering which will leverage the key component of the Reg. A+ Tier I rules which allows for the solicitation of the general public as well as traditional investors and financial institutions. The Company recommends any investors to read its Form 1-A Statement and other public reports and financials filed with the SEC for further information. All public filings, financials, management profile and other Company information are available on the Company’s website.

American Energy Partners, Inc. (AEPT)

AEPT and its group of companies focus on providing solutions in markets where energy production and water meet technology. Collectively, the subsidiaries are engaged in the energy sector as well as the design, construction and operation of regional water treatment facilities that serve the industrial, energy and government sectors.

Hydration Corporation of PA, LLC (“HCPA”) is engaged in the businesses of water exploration, water augmentation, and the treatment of impacted waters. Notably, its intellectual property delivers one of the highest energy yields from a broad range of water-bearing assets, with one of the lowest capital expenditures of any other known water processes. American Energy Solutions, LLC provides treatment technologies that contribute to HCPA’s business model of low-cost treatment and distribution. As a provider of design, this subsidiary is capable of repeatable and synergistic services across the value chain. Gilbert Oil & Gas Company is leveraging broad industry valuation experience to source drilling, operating, and partnership opportunities in the upstream oil and gas space. It is positioned to become a strong customer of AEPT’s other subsidiaries while providing them with the foundation to attract other customers and enter new markets.
